JONATHAN L. HOLMAN
Major General
Commanding
Aberdeen Proving Ground

Major General Jonathan L. Holman, the commanding general at Aberdeen Proving Ground, has seen long and varied service during his 35 years as an officer in the United States Army.

His first service was with the 24th Cavalry and 82nd Field Artillery at Fort Sill, Okla., and Fort Bliss, Texas, from July 1918 until September, 1919. Gen. Holman then was transferred to Europe where he served with the American Expeditionary Forces in France and with the American Forces in Coblenz-Lutzel, Germany, until January 1921 when he returned to the United States. He joined the 1st Field Artillery at Fort Sill and he remained there until October 1921 when he moved to Fort Bliss as an officer in the 82nd Field Artillery Battalion.

In July 1923, he entered the Ordnance School, Watertown Arsenal, Mass., and was graduated in July 1925. He then served as assistant in the New York District Ordnance Office until June 1928 when he was transferred to the San Antonio Arsenal and San Antonio Ordnance Depot, Texas, as Assistant to the Commanding Officer. He remained there for three years, returning to West Point in August 1931 as an instructor and Ordnance Property Officer.

Major General Holman enrolled in the Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., in 1936 and was graduated the next year. In September 1937 he was named Ordnance Officer, Hawaiian Separate Coast Artillery Brigade, Fort DeRussy, Hawaii. The following February he was transferred to the Hawaiian Ordnance Depot where he served in various staff capacities.

Upon returning to the United States he enrolled in the Army Industrial College, Washington, D. C., and after his graduation in June 1940, he was assigned to the Office of the Chief of Ordnance, District Control Division, in the capital.

The following year he was assigned to the Office of Emergency Management, Lend-Lease Administration where he served until the outbreak of World War II.

Early in January, 1942, he embarked for Australia as Ordnance Officer of the first command to be formed in the Southeast Pacific area, and served successively as Chief Ordnance Officer of the United States Army Forces in Australia; Army Services of Supply; and Army Forces in the Far East between February, 1942 and September 1943. In October of the same year, he was announced as Chief of Staff of the Army Services of Supply in the Southwest Pacific area. During this time he participated in the East Indies, Papuan, New Guinea, Southern Philippines, Luzon and Leyte Campaigns.

Major General Holman moved to Manila in June, 1945 where he served as Acting Chief of Staff of the forces in the Western Pacific. At the same time he was appointed Theatre Ordnance Officer in Pacific General Headquarters in which assignment he continued his service in the Philippines and Japan. He was among the officers present on the U.S.S. Missouri to witness the surrender ceremony on September 2, 1945.

Upon returning to the States in October, he was made Deputy G-4 in the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, War Department General Staff. In February 1946 he was made Chief of the Stock Control Division, Field Service, Office, Chief of Ordnance, in Washington and later was appointed Chief of Industrial Division, Office, Chief of Ordnance.

In August, 1949, Major General Holman was transferred to the Industrial College of the Armed Forces where he was appointed Assistant to the Commandant, and the following October was appointed Deputy Commandant for Education in which capacity he has served until his assignment to the Proving Ground.

He was promoted to brigadier general (temporary) on February 5, 1943 and in March 1953, became a major general.

Major General Holman holds, among numerous other decorations, The Distinguished Service Medal, the Bronze Star Medal, and the Philippines Liberation Ribbon with star.

WILLIS RICHARDSON SLAUGHTER

Brigadier General

Deputy Commander of the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Commanding General of Ordnance Training Command, and Commandant of the Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

Brigadier General Willis Richardson Slaughter, Deputy Commander of APG, is Commanding General of Ordnance Training Command and Commandant of The Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland. Born at Lynchburg, Virginia, August 24, 1895, he was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1917 as a Lieutenant in the Infantry, transferring to Ordnance in 1922.

In his 36 years of Army service, General Slaughter has had such duties as Regimental Commander; Division, Corps and Army Staff Officer; Commanding Officer of Ogden Arsenal and Tooele Ordnance Depot; Deputy and Acting Chief of Ordnance for the European Command; Deputy Commander and Executive Officer of the Office, Foreign Liquidation Commission in the Philippines; member of the Army-Navy Munitions Board; and a variety of assignments in the Office, Chief of Ordnance.

He attended the Ordnance School at Watertown Arsenal, The Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Army School of the Line and the General Staff College in France, was graduated from the Army Industrial College, taught at Cornell University, and served a former assignment as Commandant of the Ordnance School at Aberdeen Proving Ground.

In addition to other medals, General Slaughter has been awarded the Silver Star, the Legion of Merit, the Purple Heart, and Army Commendation Ribbon.

CARL R. DUTTON

Colonel

Chief of Staff and Comptroller

Aberdeen Proving Ground

Colonel Dutton came to the Proving Ground from Picatinny Arsenal, Dover, N. J., where he had been deputy commander. Prior to that he was chief of the Technical Division for five years.

Col. Dutton graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1925 and was a proof director on the Anti-Aircraft Range here in 1928-29 (APG). He returned to the Proving Ground in 1935-36, as a student in the Advanced Officers Course at the Ordnance School.

His next assignment at the Proving Ground was in 1942-43, as president of the Ordnance Board.

The colonel is also an alumnus of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and was an instructor at West Point in Ordnance and Gunnery and Mechanics.

In World War II, Col. Dutton served in Paducah during the construction of the world's largest TNT Plant at the Kentucky Ordnance Works and his Ordnance Board assignment followed. At the end of 1943, he was assigned to the China-Burma-India Theater, where he later became Ordnance officer for the China Theater and then director of supply on the staff of Gen. Albert Wedemeyer. On his return from the Orient in 1946, he conducted an inspection tour of the European Theater for the Chief of Ordnance.

TO THE MEN OF THE ORDNANCE REPLACEMENT TRAINING CENTER

It is a distinct privilege to command an organization supported by such enthusiastic and devoted service as you have given the ORTC.

It is not our intent to train recruits, but to train soldiers--men capable of winning battles and caring for themselves in combat. Nor do we forget our responsiblities as members of the Ordnance Corps to provide personnel capable of supplying and maintaining the finest weapons, equipment and ammunition available to any Army in the world.

Our job is a demanding one. It is with us twenty-four hours a day. Let us do our job so well that every Ordnance Soldier we train will be a credit to his country and to the honorable profession of Arms.

MARTIN S. WERNGREN

Lieutenant Colonel
Commanding Officer
Ordnance Replacement Training Center

Lieutenant Colonel Werngren was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on 3 October 1914, son of Albin H. and Blenda M. Werngren. He attended Overbrook High School in Philadelphia from which he graduated in 1932. After which he went to the Towne Scientific School of the University of Pennsylvania from which he received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1937. He was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve in July 1936, having completed the Senior ROTC course at the University. In November 1939 he was promoted to First Lieutenant in the Organized Reserved Corps. He went on active duty as a First Lieutenant in the ORC with the Ordnance School at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, in January, 1941. There he served in numerous capacities, including instructor in the Officers' course, company commander of several Officers' candidate companies, including the first one to be activated, Assistant Director of Military Training for The Ordnance School, and for several months was the Director of Supply for the School.

In February 1942 he was promoted to Captain, AUS, and in August 1942 was assigned to the Office of Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C. as a member of the Operations Section, and later Training Doctrine Section of the Training Division, OCO.

In February 1943 he was promoted to Major, AUS and transferred to the Training Division, Army Service Forces that same month. He served as a member of the Ordnance Section of the Training Division, ASF until the Spring of 1944 when he was transferred to the Military Personnel Division, ASF where he served until June 1945.

In 1943 while on TDY from Headquarters, ASF, he graduated with the 14th General Staff class, Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He was transferred overseas to the Philippine Islands in July 1945 where he was assigned as a member of the Philippine Army Section of Headquarters, Army Forces in the Pacific (AFPAC).

On 4 November, 1945, he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel, AUS and remained with AFPAC and later AFWESPAC as American Advisor to the G-1 of the Philippine Army until May 1946. For this service with the Philippine Army he was awarded the Distinguished Service Star by that Government, and later the American Commendation Ribbon by the United States Government covering the same period of service.

In May 1946 he was transferred to Korea as the Ordnance Officer of the 6th Infantry Division then performing Occupation in that country. He served in the capacity of Division Ordnance Officer until November 1947 when he was returned to the United States and assigned as the Executive Officer to the Corps Ordnance Officer, V Corps, Fort Bragg, North Carolina. In the Spring of 1949 he became the Acting Ordnance Officer of the Corps.

In August 1946 he was commissioned as a First Lieutenant, Regular Army with a date of rank of 3 October 1942. In July 1948 he was promoted to Captain, Regular Army.

During the period, August 1949 to August 1950 he was assigned as a student at the University of Michigan to work on his Masters Degree in Industrial Management. In August 1950, due to the outbreak of hostiliites in Korea and the resulting partial mobilization, he was withdrawn from the University and assigned to Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland with the mission of activating and commanding the ORTC, a post which he has held to date.

In May 1951 he received a promotion to Major, Regular Army.

ARMA VIRUMQUE

The story of the Ordnance Replacement Training Center, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, can best be summed up with the figure 30,000.

This is approximately the number of trainees the ORTC has converted from civilians to completely trained Army Ordnance personnel since the center was activated in September 1950.

In order to accomplish this the ORTC has continually increased its facilities, until today it has five basic training battalions and a technical training battalion.

In addition, in February 1951 the ORTC activated a Leadership Training Company to train qualified men for top non-commissioned jobs in the Army's Ordnance Corps.

The three-fold purpose of the Ordnance Replacement Training Center has always been, and will continue to be on an ever-increasing scale . . . basic military training, technical Ordnance training, and the training of leaders.

Under the command of Lt. Col. Martin S. Werngren since its inception, the ORTC presently has five technical schools in its command.

When technical training was initiated in the ORTC in December 1951 three courses were transferred to the new command from the Ordnance School.

They were Ordnance Storage, Ammunition Supply and Blacksmithing. In February 1952 the Light Artillery Repair School was transferred to the ORTC from the Ordnance School, and in October 1952 the Small Arms Repair Course was also added to the technical training curriculum of the ORTC.

In order to accommodate the additional technical training students, a fifth company was added to the four already in the 1st Technical Training Battalion.

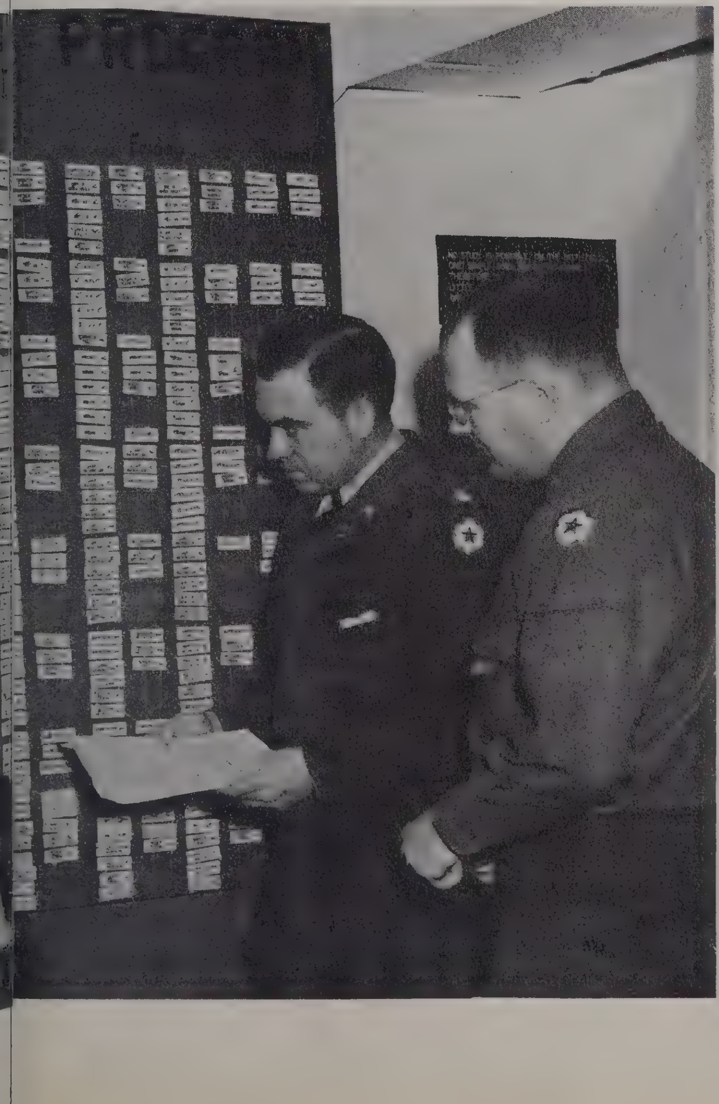
During 1952 the ORTC added a fifth basic training battalion to the four already operational in order to increase the output of trained Ordnance personnel.

The Leadership School, referred to at Aberdeen as "An Island of Perfection," gives qualified enlisted men a chance to continue their military education past the basic and technical levels. Expected to double its present strength during the coming year, Leadership has given the ORTC graduate an opportunity to prove his command-ability as well as his technical ableness.

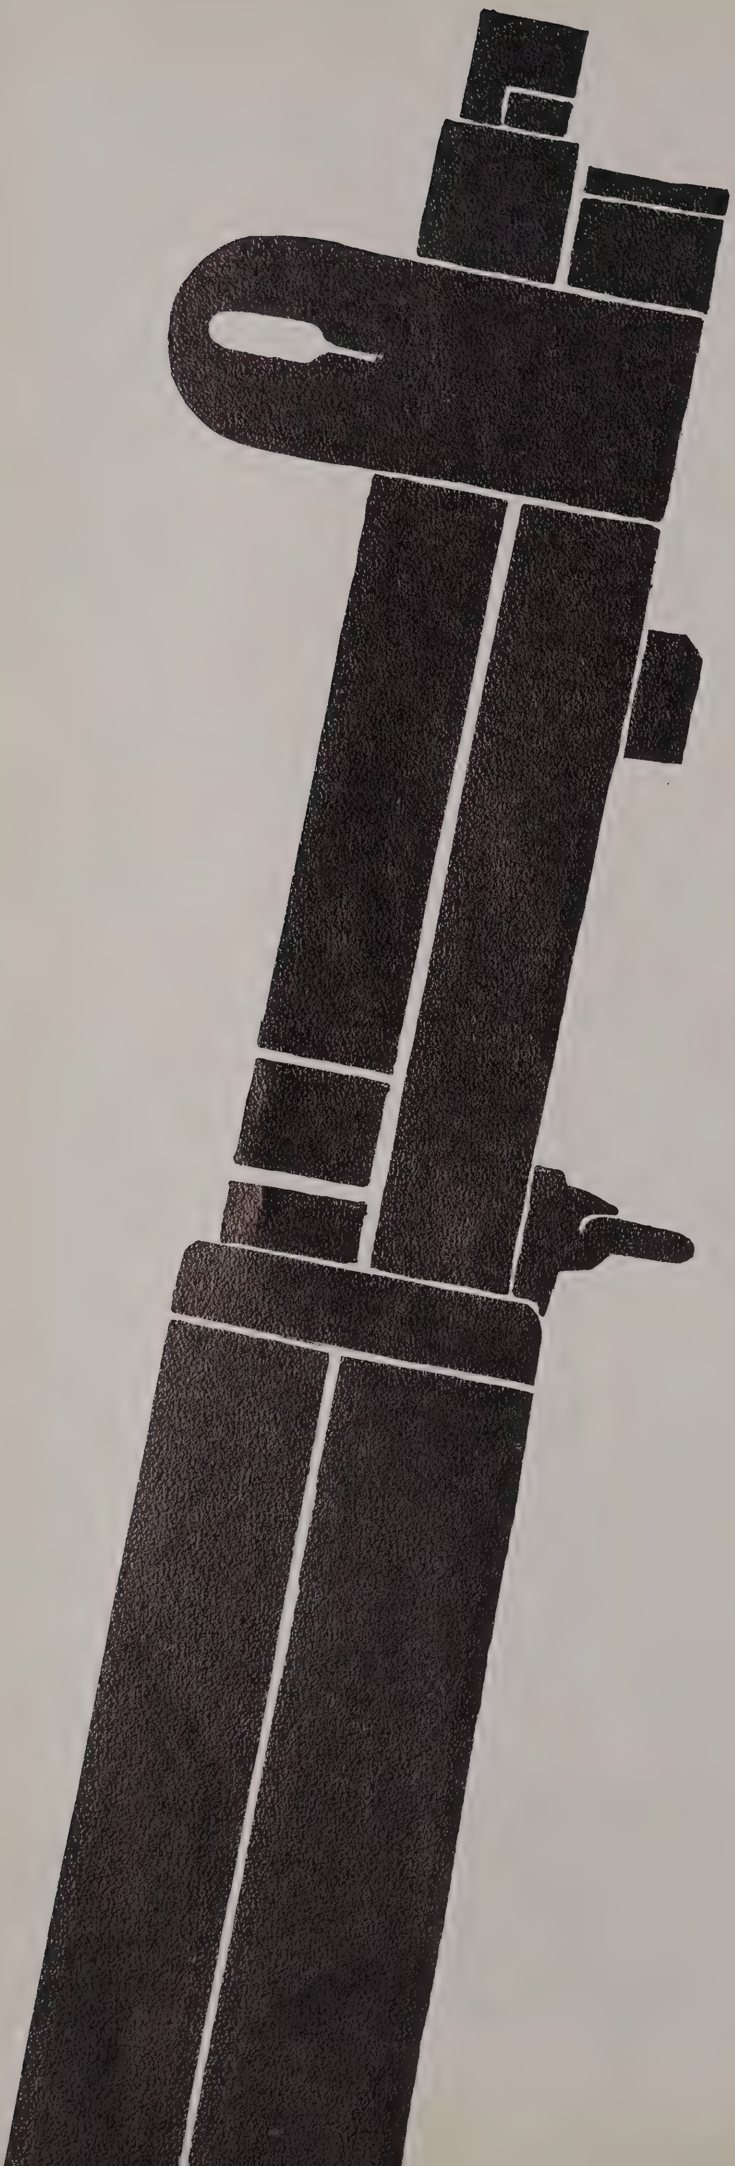
Besides continuing the training of basic trainees in technical schools, the ORTC has received detached service personnel for advanced training. These men receive Ordnance instruction at Aberdeen and then return to their units, both in the United States and overseas.

Also an important part of the technical training program is the instructing of foreign military personnel in American methods and the use of our equipment.

Both officers and enlisted men of NATO and other nations have gone through the schools, taking their classes with regular Ordnance enlisted men. In this way not only do they get a better working knowledge of our equipment, but they return to their native lands as "Ambassadors of Goodwill," and with close personal friends among the men they worked and lived with.



An overall training plan assures the O.R.T.C. trainee a well-rounded, soldierly education.



THE STORY OF THE ORDNANCE REPLACEMENT TRAINING CENTER

(CONCLUDED)

Despite heavy levies on permanent party personnel for overseas duty, the training programs both on a company and regimental level have been increased. New cadremen with both civilian and military experience in their specialized fields have been added to staffs throughout the Ordnance Replacement Training Center.

In addition to these permanent party men, Ordnance officers and non-commissioned officers rotated from Korea have been able to add their combat-learned knowledge to the training program . . . pointing out the important facts that they personally learned under combat conditions.

This first-hand knowledge gives basic training soldiers a chance to learn things the "easy way" before they actually ever have to learn them the "hard way."

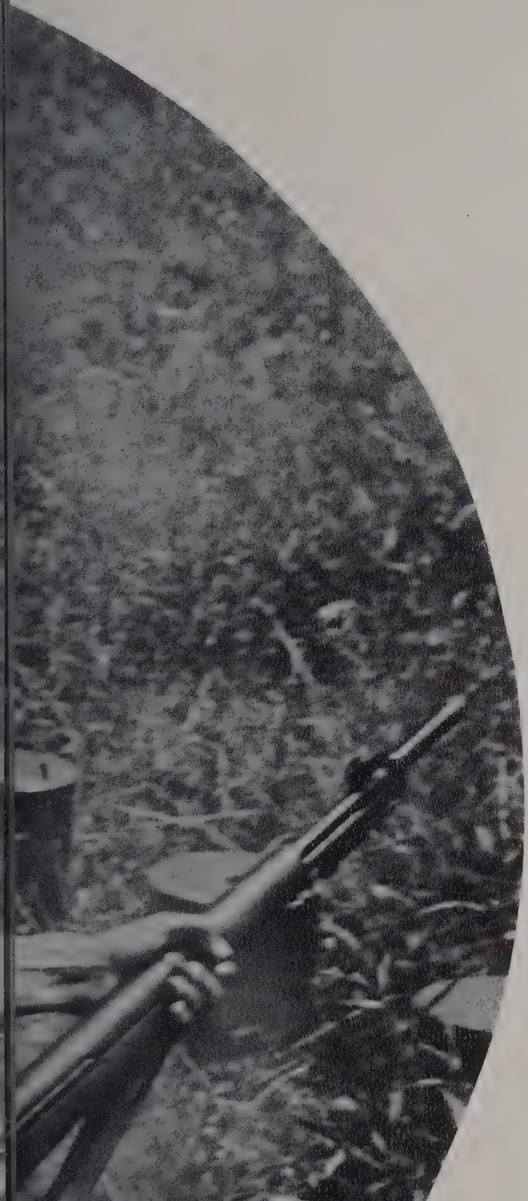
The training of recruits is an important function of the ORTC. Men, newly arrived in the Army from civilian life, are taught the rudiments of military living and combat while taking basic training in the ORTC.

Basic training in the ORTC, which lasts eight weeks, is primarily an infantry course, which prepares the soldier to effectively defend himself and take aggressive military action . . . although as an Ordnanceman he may be considered in many cases a rear-echelon soldier.

All through the eight-week period the soldier is repeatedly impressed with the fact that, although he may be a repairman or a supply worker, he is firstly and always a soldier . . . and that as such he is expected to be able to handle his weapons and to know how to function as a combat man.

During basic he is taught the use of the M-1 Rifle, basic weapon of all American soldiers, regardless of branch of service. He is also instructed in combat tactics, how to live in open, uninhabited terrain, and how to make the best of any situation he may be later faced with.

Pride in his individual unit, the Ordnance Corps and the Army is instilled in his mind, so that when, at the end of his training cycle he leaves the Ordnance Replacement Training Center for duty in any part of the world . . . he is proud of his training and well trained enough to take his place among any group of fighting men in the world.



"It is not our intent to train recruits, but to train soldiers—men capable of winning battles and caring for themselves in combat. Nor do we forget our responsibilities as members of the Ordnance Corps to provide personnel capable of supplying and maintaining the finest weapons, equipment, and ammunition available to any Army in the world."

COMPANY C

Easy does it.

Physical training test—only 185 more push ups to do.

Probing for mines, you have to be slow and easy.

Class on mines—board show different kind of mines.

Rifle grenades—they pack a big punch.

Company C learns to pitch a pup tent.

On the grenade court—this is the way to throw them.

Mine disposal is a tricky business.

Taking ten.

Foxhole excavating
under battle conditions.

"Point that thing somewhere else!"

Rifleman protects buddies digging foxholes.

This could be easy as falling off a log.

Chow!

Field training.

Up'n over on the confidence course.

Rogues' gallery—
"Smile pretty for the camera."

Squeezing off a few rounds on the carbine range.

Rifle grenade ammo point.

COMPANY C

COMPANY H

Scrubbing down mess kits after chow.

On the Bazooka range—tanks in the background are used as targets.

Someone's faking—P. T. can't be that much fun.

Trainees practice bayonet lunge and thrust

Cadreman demonstrates correct bayonet thrust.

Proper sling adjustment is taught on the PRI—it will pay off when firing for the record.

Coach and pupil system is used on PRI. One man practices while the other checks his position.

Chow—even in the field it's good. Hot meals are brought up from kitchens.

After chow part of Company H takes time out for a picture.

Cadreman goes down bazooka line checking for mistakes.

Hard working mess men dish out chow.

Trainees practice with the gas mask (and smile for the photographer).

Laying mines is a deadly art—trainees learn to spot mines for most effective coverage of a given area.

The most welcome ten minutes of every hour —break time.

COMPANY S

Big, disc-shaped mines are used against vehicles. Weight of tank or truck will detonate mine which is big enough to kill or cripple vehicles.

Trainees spend a lot of time learning the technique of rocket firing.

3.5 inch rocket launcher firing line. This is where practice pays off.

Light machine gun square. This is where Company S learns to handle the fast firing machine gun.

Problems in field tactics. Company S learns to deploy and maneuver.

Cadreman demonstrates the use of the ràm rod.

Last man in chow line—how brave can you get?

It takes this many men to fire that machine gun?

3.5 bazooka ammunition.

It's cool, it's wet—
it's WATER.

Blue Monday—or "What's happened to my Duz?"

Light machine gun training.

Outdoor classroom—seating in the upper balcony only.

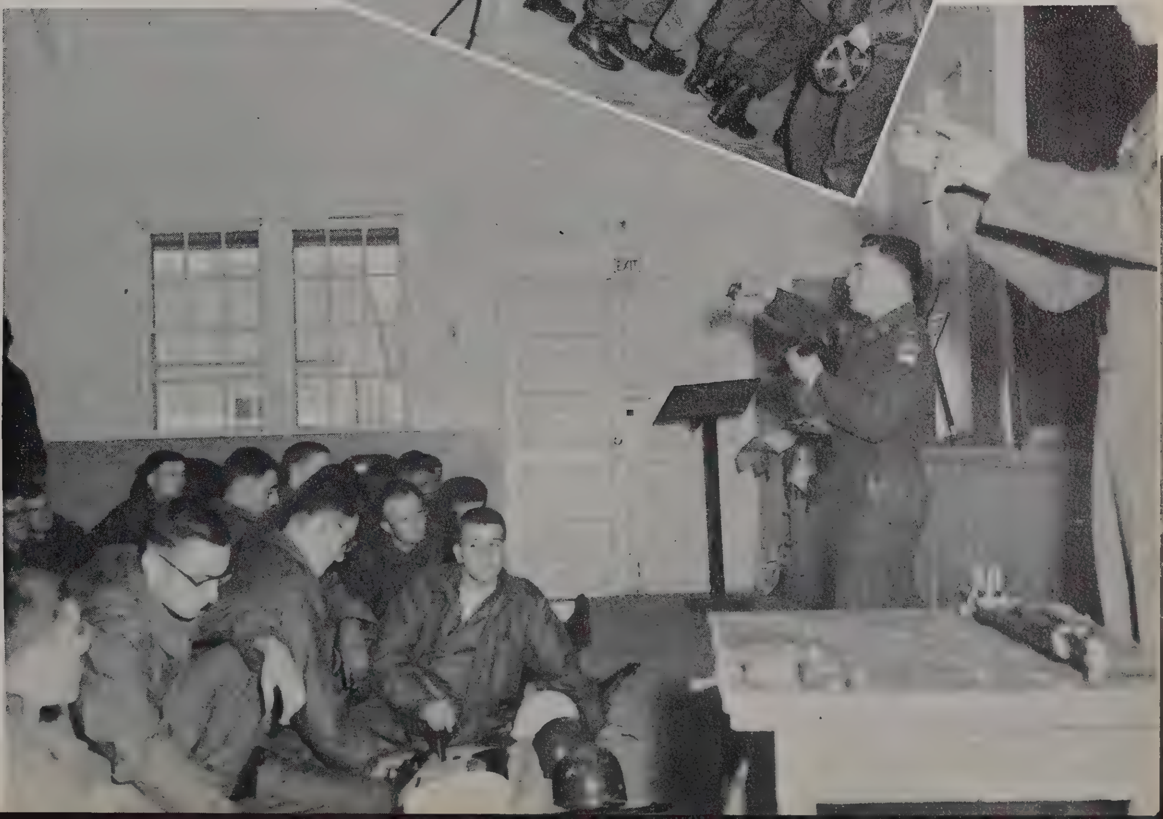
COMPANY T

M-1 disassembly—sometimes it gets confusing.



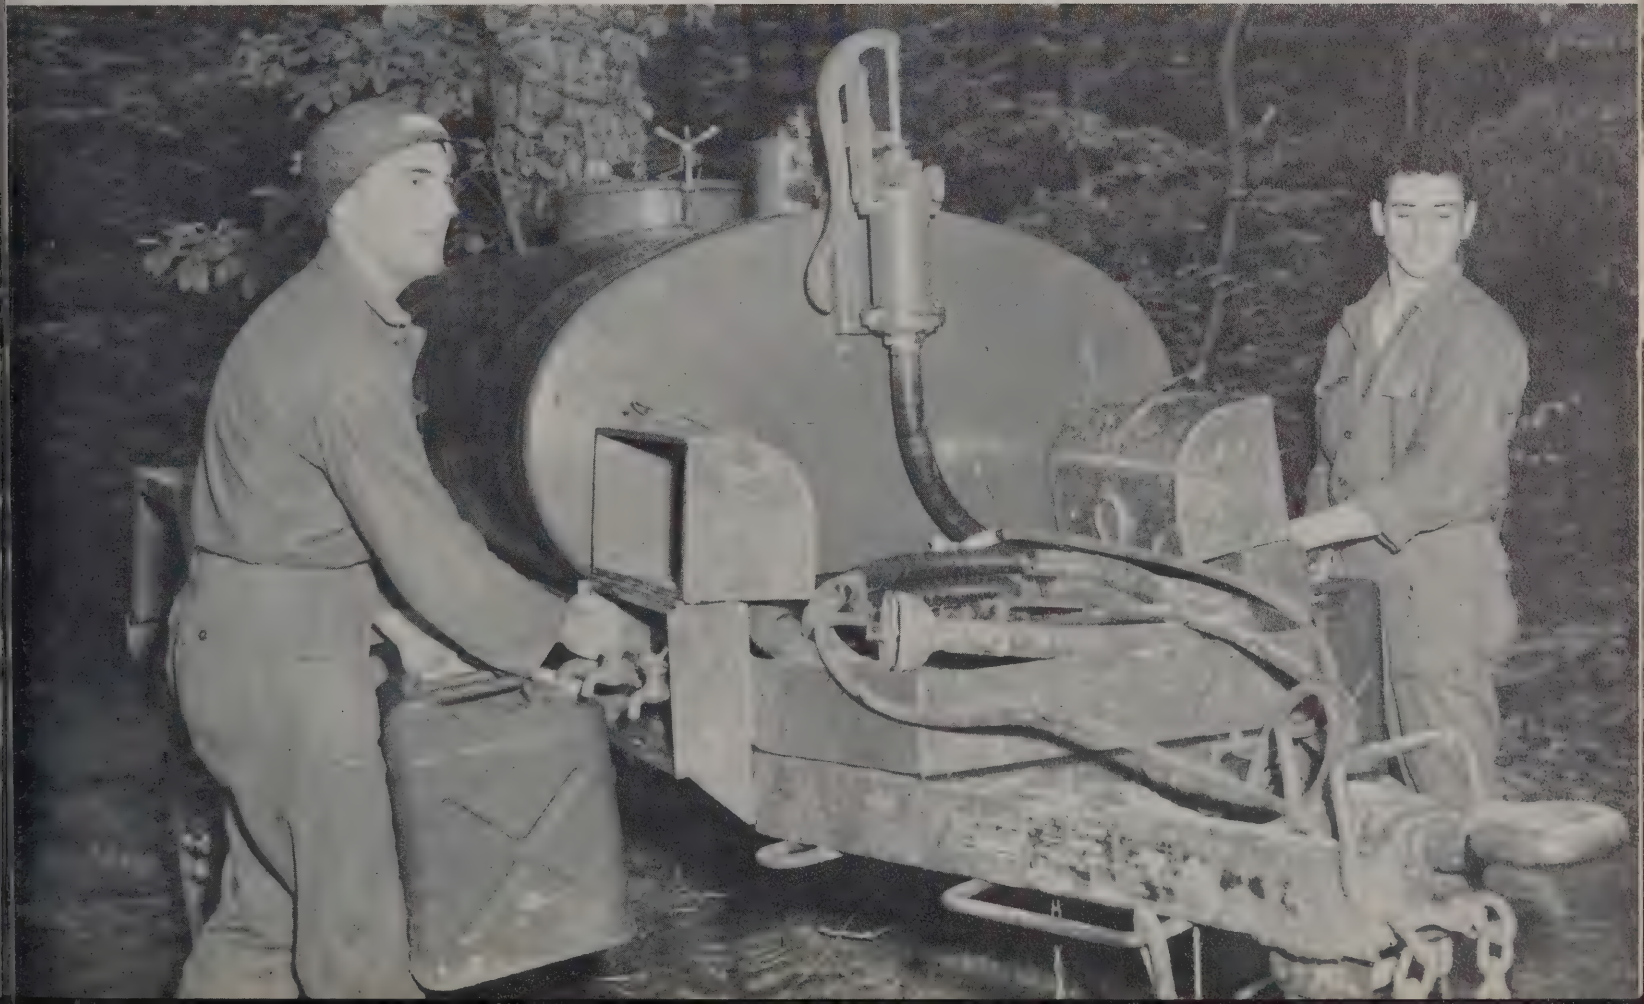
Mighty rough looking crew here.

Gas mask drill—when you need a mask you need it in a hurry.

"Don't sit down on the job, boys, those foxholes have got to be dug."

Getting those foxhole blues.

Company T goes on the water wagon.



M-1 disassembly—the chart helps.

The four men voted most likely to "Pitch A Tent."

Putting up the pups.

Stripping the M-1.

Showdown inspection—EVERYTHING must be displayed.

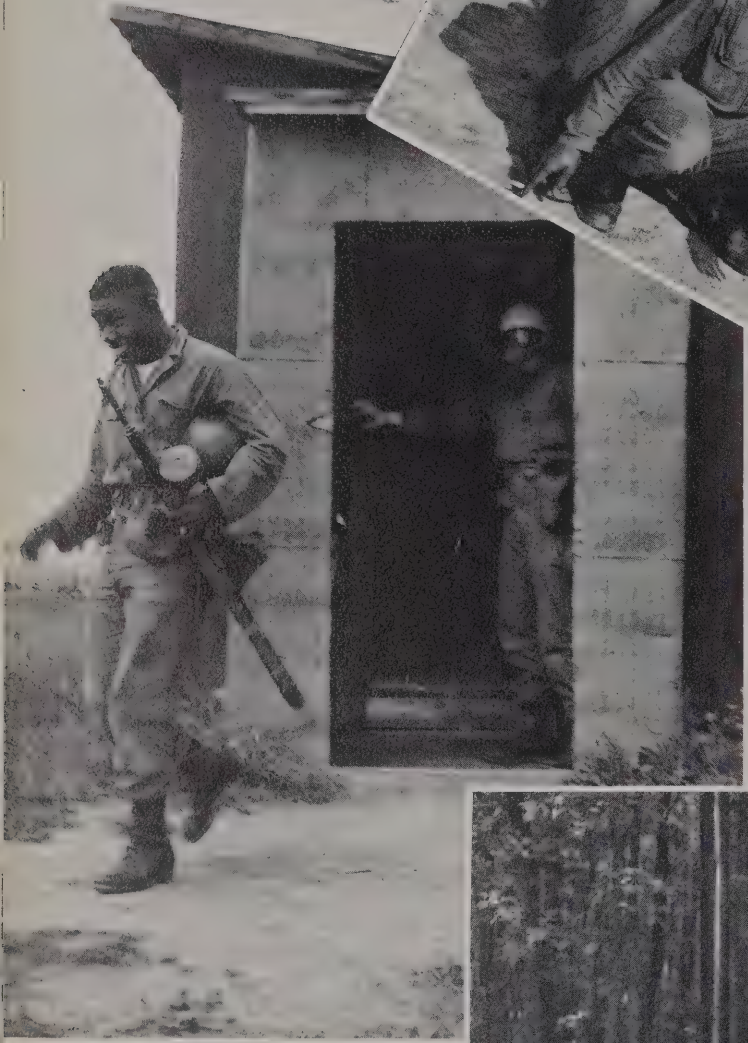
Group shot of Company T men voted "most likely to take a week-end pass."

The tears flow like wine in the gas chamber.



Setting immersion heaters.

Light machine gun training.

COMPANY U

Trainees spend a lot of time learning the fine points of the light machine gun.

Looks like spaghetti today.

The hungry horde.

Rifle grenade ammo point.

Everyone wants in the act.

Grenade practice.

The ten minutes that please—break time.

Waiting for turn on the rifle grenade range.

Chow wagon.

Just a-sitting and a-waiting.

Handsome men in Company U flash their winning smiles.

Cadre—these are the men that turn civilians into soldiers.

Class on the light machine gun.

Trainees get their first look at the Bazooka.

"Come on in, the water's fine!"

"Tote that bar, lift that chin—only 432 more to go!"

"No fair stepping on fingers!"

"Look, Mom, I'm dancing."

COMPANY W

Grunt and groan session—the time has come for physical training tests.

K.P.'s load up garbage truck after chow.

"Break out the mess kit, boys, the chow is fine today."

Mess men dig in for the high noon attack.

On the light machine gun square.

Spooning up the chow

After chow it's back to the machine gun square.

Push ups—they're so GOOD for the muscles.

Laying a mine field—cadreman and troops watch while students indicate where to spot mines.

Waiting for Company to line up.

Company W gets the word from the commanding officer.

Company W lines up to move out after noon chow.
